DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because in block 21 of Figure 8 reference R should be --P-- and in block 4 reference P should be --R--, according to the specification.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 29-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Newly added claims 29-36 recite the new matter "a variable delay circuit, receiving the first and second clock signals and delaying the second clock signal". This limitation does not appear to be supported by the specification or drawings. Is applicant calling the time difference expander the variable delay circuit? If so, this circuit does not receive both the first and second clock signals. It receives only a single delayed clock signal. Correction or clarification is required.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-16 and 29-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1, 11, and 14 are indefinite because the claims are unclear. The claims are unclear because they appear to be misdescriptive. It appears to the examiner that the time difference expander should receive a first and second clock in addition to a control signal. However, it appears from the review of the figures (in particular Figures 5, 7, and 8 as pointed out by the applicant on page 12 of the response) that the time difference expander receives one signal, the delayed input signal (the first signal). It does not receive second signal (B) or the control signal (CLK). Therefore it is not clear to the examiner how the circuit can function as claimed, when it receives only one signal. In addition applicant discloses in the specification that figures 11-19 show different embodiments of the time difference expander (3) shown in previous Figures. It is not clear to the examiner how the time difference expander shown in Figures 11-19 correlates to the time difference expander (3) shown in the previous Figures. For example the time difference expander shown in Figure 4-10 shows a circuit having a single input and a single output. This does not correspond to Figures 11-19 wherein the time difference expander has multiple inputs and outputs. Correction or clarification is required.

Claims 2-10 and 15-16 are also rejected due to the limitations of the base claims and any intervening claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Due to the indefiniteness of the claims, a determination of allowability cannot be made at this time.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
